GD Hosting Review If you want to use the free hosting services on the Internet, there are a few providers you can choose from. To make the process of choosing a free hosting service easier, I will be presenting you with my review of the three most popular free hosting providers: Hostgator, Dreamhost, and WebHostingHub. Hostgator Hostgator is one of the most popular hosting companies that are available on the Internet. The company provides you with various hosting plans that can fit your needs. They also provide you with a free domain name and a free website builder. In addition, you can enjoy various other free bonuses such as Unlimited Email Accounts, Free daily site backups, and free eCommerce support. Dreamhost Dreamhost is a popular hosting provider that are available on the Internet. Like Hostgator, they provide you with various hosting plans that can fit your needs. In addition, you can also enjoy free domain name and free website builder. They also offer you many other free bonuses such as unlimited website and email space, a free backup and maintenance, 24/7 support, and much more. WebHostingHub Like Hostgator and Dreamhost, WebHostingHub is also a popular free hosting provider. Similar to the other two providers, they also provide you with various hosting plans that can fit your needs. However, WebHostingHub is very different from Hostgator and Dreamhost. Unlike the two providers, they do not offer you any free website builder. If you wish to create a website, you can use one of their paid website builders, such as Webs. In my opinion, WebHostingHub is the best free hosting provider. For many reasons. WebHostingHub is very different from the other two providers in one way or another.
